EXTORTION

Dear Sir:

Transmitted herewith are photostatic copies of handwriting specimens of [REDACTED] presently residing at [REDACTED]. The enclosed specimens are self-explanatory. The specimens were furnished to Special Agent [REDACTED] by Local Draft Board 233, 1544 West Jefferson Boulevard, Los Angeles, California, who received the letter in the regular mail and to the best of their knowledge is the handwriting of [REDACTED]

b7C

It should be pointed out that there is some similarity in this writing to that of Unknown Subjects, particularly in the way "Los Angeles" is written. It is also noted that [REDACTED] consistently makes his letter "r" different from Unknown Subject.

It is not necessary to return the original specimens of [REDACTED] handwriting to the Los Angeles Office and they may be disposed of by the Laboratory.

It is requested that this handwriting be compared with Unknown Subject's handwriting in this case and a laboratory report covering this examination be forwarded to the Los Angeles Office.

According to Mr. CANTOR, this stranger, whose name he cannot recall, never mentioned the names of any of these impersonators or the names of any victims defrauded by the alleged impersonators, but the conversation was merely general and no further details are known to Mr. Cantor.

With Mr. CANTOR was BENNY HOLZMAN, mentioned in reference report. HOLZMAN stated that he knew nothing about the matter except what he had heard from CANTOR, as just above outlined.

Numerous specimens were examined, and it was noted that the handwriting of [REDACTED] is markedly dissimilar to the handwriting appearing in the extortion letter. [REDACTED] is not available for questioning in view of the fact that he is presently a member of the U. S. Marine and his present whereabouts are unknown.

One of the visitors who came to the Los Angeles County Jail to see [REDACTED] at the time of his incarceration there, was [REDACTED]. Investigation disclosed [REDACTED] to be the sister of [REDACTED]. Specimens of [REDACTED] handwriting were obtained. It was also noted that her handwriting was markedly dissimilar to the handwriting appearing in the extortion letter written by subject in the instant investigation.

The reference report indicates that [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] visited [REDACTED] during his incarceration in the Los Angeles County jail. A specimen of [REDACTED] handwriting was obtained from the Lockheed Aircraft Company, Burbank, California, and it was noted that her handwriting was markedly dissimilar to the handwriting appearing in the extortion letter.

A handwriting specimen was obtained from [REDACTED] who stated she was a friend of [REDACTED] and had gone to the Los Angeles County Jail in order to take care of his laundry. She readily gave a specimen of her handwriting, and it was noted that her handwriting possessed none of the characteristics of the handwriting appearing in the extortion letter.

[REDACTED] was interviewed, and she advised that she had attended several meetings at which [REDACTED] spoke, and further advised that she had been in the Hawaiian Islands for about two years previous to the date [REDACTED] was tried in Los Angeles. She stated that not being fully advised as to the charge against [REDACTED] she had visited him at the Los Angeles County Jail. She gladly gave a specimen of her handwriting, and it was noted that her handwriting possessed none of the characteristics noted in the handwriting appearing in the extortion letter.

Investigation was conducted in an effort to locate [REDACTED] a visitor of [REDACTED] at the Los Angeles County Jail, who gave [REDACTED] as her address. In an effort we further made to locate [REDACTED] a visitor of [REDACTED] who gave her address as [REDACTED]. The investigation disclosed that there were no such street numbers as the addresses given by [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] and furthermore, although considerable inquiry was made in the neighborhood, both of these individuals were unknown. An examination of the Los Angeles City Directories for 1939, 1940, 1941 and 1942 failed to be of assistance in locating these individuals.

Another visitor of [REDACTED] at the Los Angeles County Jail was [REDACTED]. An inquiry was made at this address for information concerning [REDACTED] and it was learned that [REDACTED] had lived at [REDACTED]. Further investigation disclosed the said [REDACTED] to be a friend of [REDACTED] and his neighbors described him as being a "cuck pot" and a possible mental case.

b7C

An effort is being made at the present time to locate [REDACTED] who moved from [REDACTED] about two years ago. On June 5, 1944 a letter was forwarded to the Los Angeles Post Office, wherein an inquiry was made as to the present address of [REDACTED].

On February 25, 1944 a report was received from the Bureau Laboratory wherein it was stated that [REDACTED], a possible suspect, did not write the questioned handwriting contained in instant matter.

same person who wrote to [REDACTED] at Los Angeles County Jail on December 13, 1941, signing the letter, "People's Army of Freedom." This report also lists the names of persons who visited [REDACTED] during his stay at the Los Angeles County Jail.

b7C. Attention is directed to the fact that Judge RALPH E. JENNEY presided over the trial of these men and sentenced them to prison. At this point it is noted that all persons who visited [REDACTED] at the County Jail have been investigated, and some names have been found to be fictitious, while the handwriting of others was obtained and was found to be markedly dissimilar to that appearing in the extortion letter. The elimination of [REDACTED] who visited [REDACTED] at the jail, brings to a close this phase of the investigation.

Attention is further directed to the referenced report of Special Agent [REDACTED] wherein it is set forth that the Bureau laboratory identified the writer of the instant extortion letter with the writer of the threatening letters to the Los Angeles Chief of Police, to Mrs. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT, EDITH CANTOR, and others.

Although the referenced reports reflect an intensive investigation in an effort to locate the writer of the instant extortion letter, these investigative steps have been taken with negative results.

In view of the fact that all logical leads have been covered, this matter is being closed on authority of the Special Agent in Charge.

SA O. Collier of the New York office telephoned the Bureau at 12:30 a.m. yesterday and advised SA Joseph D. Purvis as follows:

Miss Melyn Cantor, 29 West 65th street, New York, N.Y., daughter of Eddie Cantor, the radio and motion picture entertainer, telephoned the New York office to report she had received two post cards through the mail on March 13, 1948, from an individual whose name was signed as [REDACTED]

Both cards contained threats to damage her reputation, and the reputation of her father, if the latter did not take his girl friend out of the house at 1852 Bryan Avenue, Bronx, N.Y.

b7C Miss Cantor knows no one at [REDACTED] address. She has received several telephone calls lately from a man who "speaks dirty and curses". She cannot give who the caller might be, but is sure the calls have not been from the prurient friends.

Miss Cantor did not wish to be interviewed last night. She will be interviewed today for details, and the Bureau will be advised.

Information in possession of the New York office indicates [REDACTED] is psychopathic.

Call 6 P.M.

L. Wilhelm, Night Supervisor, New York Division, who was acting, advised that Miss Marilyn Cantor had been interviewed this evening. She made available two post cards which contained no threat of physical violence but were derogatory of Miss Cantor and her father, Eddie Cantor, making reference to an alleged girl friend of Eddie Cantor's.

Miss Cantor had no suspect in mind and she was informed that it would appear from the contents of the cards that there was no violation over which this Bureau had jurisdiction.

Mr. Wilhelm advised that a detailed teletype would be submitted to the Bureau tonight.
